

Stage set for one-day showdown

AS THE finishing touches are put on a picturesque Bradman Oval for today's one-day clash, match organisers are urging locals to vote with their feet and attend the big game.

"It's not too late to get tickets and it's very important that locals show their support," Bradman Museum Curator Richard Mulvaney said.

"There's no doubt it will be a great game and Bradman Oval has never looked better.

"Josh Woodcock and his team have done a wonderful job and the pitch looks like a billiard table.

"It's just in tip top shape and we're all eagerly awaiting the big game."

The whole day is shaping up to be a memorable one with a whole range of catering and entertainment organised.

Bowral Lions will host a steak and sausage sizzle while Southland Icecream will be on hand to tempt patrons with their wide range of icecreams and cheeses.

Bowral Hotel will keep spectators thirsts at bay with two stalls and Stumps Tea Room will have a marquee offering among other things rolls, chips, chocolates, tea and coffee and flavoured milk.

To help maintain the atmosphere during the breaks the Southern Belles as well as the Highlands Pipes and Drums band will play.

All this in a great picnic atmosphere at the picturesque Bradman Oval.

Those that still haven't bought tickets can do so at the gate, $25 per adult with grandstand seating on a first come basis.

Finishing touches... Head curator Josh Woodcock and Ben Ireland mark the lines for today's Australian Country XI and Zimbabwe clash at Bradman Oval.
